

Questions Submitted for the session:

Organizing for Climate Justice: How are men and boys being engaged?

6 August, 2026

1. Climate stress already drives GBV, child marriage, and household conflict. Could positive parenting curricula explicitly name climate stressors (crop failure, displacement) as triggers needing the same emotional and relational skills, instead of treating climate and gender work as separate tracks?
2. تأثير The climate affects the economic, political, social and psychological status of women and its interactions with the future of women, and how can we shed light on this issue in light of climate change? على وضع المرأة الاقتصادي والسياسي والاجتماعي وعلى نفسي وتفاعلاتها على مستقبل المرأة وكيف يمكننا تسليم الضوء على هذه القضية في ظل تغيير المناخ؟
3. I want to talk to my male friends about this. But they are extremely skeptical of all things feminist, and I just don't know how to talk to them about this?
4. what are some forms of direction action that you find inspiring and/or interesting?
5. Degrowth often gets a bad rap from economists, even if they agree with the degrowth principles, what other ways can we talk about degrowth?
6. What are the role of wealth persons to climate earth?
7. As you are aware, climate justice has been lost in the world today. Drought has reached its peak. Countries with dry climates have lost all their natural resources. What could be the cause of all these problems?
8. How do we intentionally raise boys to become climate-conscious leaders and environmental defenders?
9. How can youth-led climate movements, gender equality initiatives, and human rights organizations build stronger partnerships to create lasting and inclusive social change, rather than working in isolation?

10. What are the common pitfalls in communicating the links between climate change and men's/boys' engagement?
11. The climate affects the economic, political, social and psychological status of women and its interactions with the future of women, and how can we shed light on this issue in light of climate change?
12. Do you use GenAI in your work? Why or why not?
13. What is climate activism and climate advocacy for you? Is there a difference between the two?
14. how do you explain to others the links between patriarchal masculinities and climate crisis? what stories or framings work?
15. How to we rescue people of these problems
16. Why isn't the entire industrial plant that produces the most greenhouse gases and destroys the world's natural ecosystem being criticized?
17. What role should fathers and male mentors play in teaching sustainability values at home? How can men become stronger advocates for women leading in renewable energy and climate innovation? Are enough resources being invested in training young men for jobs within the green economy and clean energy transition?
18. What practical strategies have been most effective in engaging men and boys as genuine allies in climate justice while ensuring that women's, LGBTQ+, and marginalized communities' voices remain at the center of the movement?